

emamichisel art

A Unit of Emami Frank Ross Ltd

ONLINE COVERAGE OF SAHANABHUTI
AN EXHIBITION HELD AT EMAMI CHISEL ART GALLERY IN AID OF THE UTTARAKHAND FLOOD VICTIMS

Prepared by Corporate Communications Department

Publication	http://ibnlive.in.com/news/veteran-artists-of-kolkata-sale-artworks-to-raise-fund-for-uttarakhand-floods/416586-3-231.html
Date	23/08/2013

Veteran artists of Kolkata sale artworks to raise fund for Uttarakhand floods

Press Trust of India | Posted on Aug 23, 2013 at 05:08pm IST

By donating the proceeds from the sale of their artworks, a group of 67 acclaimed artists have come together to raise funds for the rehabilitation of Uttarakhand flash flood victims and their families. 'Sahanubhuti', the ongoing exhibition at Emami Chisel Art, has veterans like Jogen Chowdhury, Suvapasanna, Shipra Bhattacharya, Sanatan Dinda, Samir Aich, Sunil Das and Sanjay Bhattacharyya participating. The works include acrylic on canvas, watercolour and charcoal on paper, sculptures in bronze and wood.

Priced within Rs 1 lakh, the artworks are on display till August 31. "Art cannot remain aloof from what is happening around. The helplessness of the victims of Uttarakhand came as a clarion call for us at Emami Chisel Art to chip in and do something for their rehabilitation," said Richa Agarwal of Emami Chisel Art.

Veteran artists of Kolkata sale artworks to raise fund for Uttarakhand floods

Besides this, the Emami Group through their charitable trust, Emami Foundation, has created a relief fund corpus of Rs 1 crore initially to carry out the immediate relief operations.

Publication	http://www.business-standard.com/article/pti-stories/group-of-veteran-artists-selling-work-for-uttarakhand-floods-113082300673_1.html
Date	23/08/2013

Group of veteran artists selling work for Uttarakhand floods

By donating the proceeds from the sale of their artworks, a group of 67 acclaimed artists have come together to raise funds for the rehabilitation of Uttarakhand flash flood victims and their families.

'Sahanubhuti', the ongoing exhibition at Emami Chisel Art, has veterans like Jogen Chowdhury, Suvapasanna, Shipra Bhattacharya, Sanatan Dinda, Samir Aich, Sunil Das and Sanjay Bhattacharyya participating.

The works include acrylic on canvas, watercolour and charcoal on paper, sculptures in bronze and wood.

Priced within Rs 1 lakh, the artworks are on display till August 31.

"Art cannot remain aloof from what is happening around. The helplessness of the victims of Uttarakhand came as a clarion call for us at Emami Chisel Art to chip in and do something for their rehabilitation," said Richa Agarwal of Emami Chisel Art.

Besides this, the Emami Group through their charitable trust, Emami Foundation, has created a relief fund corpus of Rs 1 crore initially to carry out the immediate relief operations.

Publication	http://indiatoday.intoday.in/story/sachin-tendulkar-sourav-ganguly-team-india-selectors-indian-players-statistics/1/300348.html
Date	23/08/2013

Sachin Tendulkar gets Ganguly's backing over team selection comments

IAANS KOLKATA, AUGUST 20, 2013 | UPDATED 11:25 IST

Former India captain Sourav Ganguly Monday said batting master Sachin Tendulkar's comment that selectors need to look beyond statistics while picking fresh talents has been blown out of context.

"I was there when he made the comments and also read his interview. It has been completely blown out of context. it was a completely harmless statement made by Sachin. He said it in a completely different context," Ganguly said on the sidelines of a programme here.

Two days back, Tendulkar had courted a controversy when he said selectors needed to give importance to a player's skills and ability to absorb pressure, rather than going by the scorebook.

"It's about vision. When it comes to selection, one has to analyse a player. Even if he fails in a few matches, one needs to see if he has the ability to withstand pressure and execute at the international level. I have seen players who are exceptionally good at the domestic level not being able to perform as well in international cricket," Tendulkar had said at the platinum jubilee celebrations of the Karnataka State Cricket Association in Bangalore Saturday.

Ganguly, and other Indian captains like Mohammed Azharuddin, Radhul Dravid and Anil Kumble were also present at the Bangalore function.

On Tendulkar's likely 200th Test appearance in the coming South Africa trip, Ganguly said the record would be unbreakable.

"It would be an unbelievable achievement. I dont think it will be possible to break that record," he said after inaugurating "Sahanubhuti", a benefit exhibition of paintings and sculptures for rehabilitation of Uttarakhand flash flood victims at Emami Chisel Art gallery.

Ganguly also hoped India would do well in South Africa.

"India have done well in last 4-5 months, So there is a lot to hope, for South Africa provides the best bowling conditions and I hope India have a good season there".

The talismanic cricketer said he has not shown any disrespect to stylish former Indian batsman V.V.S. Laxman by naming him the 12th man of a dream Test team he chose during an interaction with a television channel.

"Selecting such a team doesn't mean showing disrespect to any player. It doesn't make any player bigger or smaller."

Ganguly denied reports that he may participate in a dance reality show.

"It's completely news for me. I can't dance, only my wife can, I am not a part of any such programme," he added.